

Boutique Firm Now Focuses Only on Critical Cases

“Due to lawstore’s virtual legal drafting services, the boutique firm is able to dedicate their time and effort toward other lucrative and compelling tasks, be it legal, sales, or networking.”

Alternative Legal Research and Writing Arrangements

A boutique law firm founded by two attorneys in California, which offers customized legal services to its clients throughout the world, was inundated with complex cases. The firm wanted to center its attention only on the most critical cases so it decided to outsource a portion of its cases to lawstore’s expert virtual attorneys.

A Range of Practice Areas

The firm has a large practice area mainly focusing on Anti-SLAPP, Arbitration, Business Litigation, Class Action, Commercial Transactions, EDD Claims and Audits, Employment, and Wage & Hour Matters. It submits legal research and writing work (research memos, motions, briefs, pre-trial support documents and discovery documents) with regard to cases in these practice areas on a daily basis to a dedicated lawstore team along with the deadline, instructions, and samples.

An Exclusive Team of Attorneys

The lawstore team designated to work on these cases consists of an exclusively assigned offshore senior legal associate, who is supervised by a Lead Attorney and a Project Manager. Once the legal associate completes the final draft, the onshore Senior Project Lead checks it to ensure consistency in quality, procures feedback from the client, and makes necessary changes in time for the court.

So far, the firm has used lawstore's legal services to draft motions for summary judgment, meet and confer letter, motion to compel discovery responses, discovery requests for the superior court of California, research memoranda, discovery requests for the American Arbitration Association and more.

Efficiency, Cost Savings and other Benefits

The lawstore team provides the final product well within the due date, devoid of hassles for the client. Due to lawstore's virtual legal drafting services, the boutique firm is able to dedicate their time and effort toward other lucrative and compelling tasks, be it legal, sales, or networking.

The firm, repeatedly impressed by lawstore's high quality work, quick turnaround time, and affordable pricing, has expressed its desire to continue its partnership with lawstore for many years ahead.
