

Texas Attorney Seeks Receivership Support

“ Although the turnaround time for templated documents is usually three days and that for customized documents is up to a week, the lawstore team delivered documents in less than 48 hours. ”

TOO MANY RECEIVERSHIPS, TOO FEW ASSOCIATES

A busy attorney, who runs a small practice in Texas, contacted lawstore for administrative support in the preparation of litigation related documents, subpoenas, and private investigation, in connection with his receivership for debt recovery.

COMPLETING UP TO 100 RECEIVERSHIPS PER MONTH

Limited by the current size of his law practice, the client was able to sign on only 40 receiverships per month. However, with a view to increasing the number of monthly receiverships, the client undertook as many as 100 receiverships. To help the client, lawstore put together a team of virtual legal assistants consisting of junior legal associates, who prepared templated documents; a senior legal associate, who prepared motions and more complex documents; and a lead attorney, who supervised the team and ensured the client receives high-quality receivership documents in time.

DOCUMENTS DELIVERED WITHIN 48 HOURS

Although the turnaround time for templated documents is usually three days and that for customized documents is up to a week, the lawstore team delivered documents in less than 48 hours. Impressed by the team's speed, reliability, flexibility, and quality of work, the client has reduced his firm's spend on office assistants and channeled it into other revenue-generating activities. He continues to lean on lawstore for all his receivership projects and is set to manage more than 100 receiverships per month.
